

Chapter 1 : Paparazzi Accessories: Your Future Looks Bright

Your Future Looks Bright. Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the LORD is risen upon thee. Isaiah I remember a great man of God, Kenneth E. Hagin, saying: "If the devil can get you under condemnation he can cheat you out of your inheritance."

We also offer a tuition reimbursement program to provide additional career advancement opportunities. Celebrating 45 Years 45 years of doing our very best to provide great service. We proactively recommend better solutions and make customer, employee and vendor experiences as fair and beneficial as possible. For 45 years, Stay-Lite Lighting has provided lighting, electrical and maintenance for industrial, commercial and retail buildings. With our own licensed people. With our own brick-and-mortar facilities. With our own state-of-the-art equipped trucks. We service and maintain lighting systems, whether at one facility or many, all across the country. There is always something new and this has helped me to continue to grow and develop. The benefits are all great and I personally love the generous vacation time. Even though we have experienced so much growth, it still feels like a family to me. BL, Technician I really enjoy both the customers and my co-workers as they make me happy to be working at Stay-Lite. I appreciate the flexibility and family-like environment, it is truly a great culture. I have known the owner for 11 years now and feel he is always looking out for our best interest, he truly takes care of us. MF, Customer Support I love it here! I am truly proud to put on the uniform and drive the vehicles that bare the name Stay-Lite Lighting. I get the feeling of being a part of something bigger than just a company name. Observing their years of consecutive growth, employment with this company was an attractive option as I considered potential positions. KC, Customer Service I enjoy working at Stay-Lite because it offers big corporate opportunities but still treats employees personally like a small family firm. You can tell by the company sponsored events we have, by the laughter down the hallway on any given day, or by the way everyone cares and helps when someone has a problem, work related or not. Valued employee, Operations At Stay-Lite, my opinion matters as a valuable member of the team. The entire staff works collaboratively to improve processes and client service. When you spend as many hours a week as you do with colleagues, it is important to respect and enjoy the people you work with. SS, Customer Service When I visited Stay-Lite in November of to interview, I was immediately impressed with the level of professionalism by all that I met and came into contact with. My experience in the office for a couple of hours that afternoon made my decision very easy when offered to join the Stay-Lite team. Stay-Lite Lighting is a great company to work for because it is a growing, stable company and everyone is very supportive. They treat each other with respect, kindness and humor. All while ensuring Stay-Lite continues to grow and is profitable. We offer rewarding long-term career paths with personal growth opportunities. Chapter 2 : The Future's So Bright, I Gotta Wear Shades - Wikipedia

Free 3 card readings on Sundays!!! This is a way to keep me on my toes, to reach out to those who may be skeptical about getting a reading and a way for me to give back to the universe.

Life events took me out for a while and in fact it was our fearless leader, Chris Hurd, whom was instrumental in helping to bring me back out from the dark. Indeed, it took me weeks to really figure out what I wanted to share on this my return to the forum and finally it hit me: With very few exception every camera on the market today and going back many years is capable of producing amazing imagery. I literally just shot a segment yesterday with the venerable but now long-in-the-tooth HPX But it still has that gorgeous Panny color, that organic-looking global shutter and when you use the lens and lighting in cinematic style it still produces gorgeous stuff – and the client loved it too. For me it was like visiting an old friend; I was one of the consultants that shot demo footage for Panasonic for the release of the at NAB Find something that fits your budget, that you can grow with and will stand up to the rigors of professional use. Always Take Your Hat Hi-Hat One of the most underwhelming, misunderstood, underrated but extremely useful pieces of production equipment is the Manfrotto Hi Hat with mm Bowl , pictured below. My light is always in my pocket or at least close enough that I can reach out for it. Why is the red so important? There are always good and bad habits when it comes to content creation. Do you know what really defines a true professional? Or the amount of money you charge for a job. They could have taken the same shot with ease. So how do you get to the point where you can get access to high-value subject material? First you have to perfect your craft and prove that you can deliver good-looking content consistently. Then you have to network, network, network and after that more networking. Lighting, Lenses and Composition. And unless something really, really BIG changes in how lenses and cameras are made you can bet that no matter what your lens lineup is now will be usable until you die. As does the knowledge of HOW to setup proper lighting for the scene. Invest in the biggest, brightest most versatile lighting rig you can afford and keep building on it. Spend time – LOTS of time learning from the pros, watching videos, analyzing movies– from whatever sources are readily available to you in deciphering proper composition techniques. These days I can look at any photo or video clip and know exactly how the light was setup – or how available light was used. Grow a thick skin and be prepared for rejection. Sometimes what you think is really cool or amazing to look at has absolutely no value to a potential client. Keep your friends and family close for those times when you need a pep talk, but pay attention to what seasoned pros tell you, and always keep an open ear for what potential clients say they want. But the rewards are damned difficult to succinctly describe in a few words. How do you explain the goosebumps you get when you see something you put blood sweat and tears over for months when it shows up on a TV screen in a bar? Cheers to All – and hope to see you at NAB !!!!

Chapter 3 : 14 Best Bible Verses About the Future - Encouraging Scripture

I have used these cute jars before I got from Hobby Lobby for teachers. (See teacher post here)But thought it would be just as cute to use for graduates. School colors are Orange and Black and purchased Reese Pieces candies and pulled all the yellow ones out.

There are so many people who live with guilt and shame, feeling depressed about the things they have done. Perhaps you, too, live with unrelenting feelings of guilt. This is your day to rise up in happiness. He has made us acceptable to Himself. The righteousness of God is now manifested apart from the law Romans 3: Nothing matters except your faith in Jesus. If you accept Jesus as your Saviour, God declares you righteous Romans 3: We all have sinned and come short of the glory of God. Yet, also we all have been given the opportunity to receive Jesus as Lord and be counted as righteous before God. When we accept Jesus, the mercy of God moves on our behalf. And then through His grace, God makes available His divine prosperity, His divine healing, His divine blessing in every area of life. God showers us with blessing upon blessing, because He sees us as being righteous " in right standing with Him " through the shed blood of Jesus. The Blood of Jesus is always effective and in operation. It protects us, heals us and causes us to prosper. Fear has no place in our lives, because of our faith in the perfected work of the Blood. We are a people without a burdensome past. The blood of Jesus bought us a bright future. The glory of the LORD has risen upon us. We have been declared righteous by God Almighty. Will you choose to see yourself as one of the righteous of the LORD? Jer ; 2 Cor
